

PREPARING STUDENTS FOR RESEARCH, AT A NON-RESEARCH IH PROGRAM

Dave Wallace, Utah State University

dwallace@biology.usu.edu

Utah State University has an ABET accredited industrial hygiene program, but undergraduate students have limited opportunities for research. While motivated students are able to acquire research experience in related programs, their best course of action is to pursue a graduate degree. With its strong science-based curriculum, USU graduates are well prepared for research later in their academic and professional careers.

